START

The junior high athletics program at Weber School District is an integral part of the total educational experience. It has the potential to enhance physical wellbeing, healthy habits, skill development, and a positive self-image. A sense of belonging to a team can enable a student to develop much more than just athletic ability. The goal at Weber School District, for our Junior High athletics, is to train student athletes for the high school athletic level, build the basic skills of the sports they are involved in, and help to build character and growth in good sportsmanship. We want our student athletes to learn to win and lose graciously on and off of the court/field. Being a part of a team, brings opportunities for our junior high athletes to realize their individual potential and become part of something bigger than themselves. We strive to teach our student athletes to do their very best every day.

TEAM SELECTIONS:

At Weber School District we have a desire to see as many students as possible participate in athletic programs while at the junior high level. We encourage coaches to keep as many students as they can and still maintain the integrity of their sport. Choosing the members of the athletic team is the responsibility of the coaches that have been hired for those sports. Students interested in participating in athletics at the Junior High School level will be required to be eligible, attend the tryouts, complete all necessary documents and pay all required fees as dictated by the board approved fee schedule. In the event of an extenuating circumstance such as health issues or other situations out of the students control the administration may allow the student to try out at a later date.

A student who has tried out for a sport program and was not chosen or who was terminated or suspended from the school's sport program is ineligible to participate or practice in that sport during that sport season at any other member school. With the exception of a 9th grader trying out at the high school level. If they do not make the high school team but the junior high tryout is later, they are still eligible to try out for the junior high team.

A coach may, in addition to the team, choose to name some players as "RED SHIRTS". A red shirt refers to a student that is a part of the team but will not be competing in the scheduled games. They will practice with the team, learn the skills of that sport, they may travel with the team and can be used as managers and help the team in areas such as keeping stats.

If a student is selected as a "RED SHIRT" the following will apply:

- They will be listed as a red shirt on the team roster
- They will be responsible for following all team rules
- They must complete all required forms, obtain a current physical and pay the travel and program fee. (They will not be required to pay the participation fee) See the board approved fee schedule

SCOUTING AND FILMING PROCEDURE:

The filming or video taping of any athletic contest is permitted under the following conditions:

- Each school may tape their own practice and games
- Film must be viewed during practice sessions only
- The scouting of an opponent's practice session is prohibited
- The scouting and filming of league games is acceptable
- Senior high school coaches are prohibited from recruiting ninth grade students for any sport that is offered at the junior high level.

FEES/FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS:

Once teams are selected, student athletes will be assessed fees according to the Board of Education approved fee schedule. Fees must be paid prior to the first scheduled game of the season. These fees include, but are not limited to participation fees, equipment fees and travel fees. Red Shirt athletes will only be responsible for transportation fees and equipment fees. Coaches will outline the other assigned fees in the parent meeting. All athletes are responsible for the proper care and security of equipment issued to the. School furnished uniforms are to be worn only for practices and scheduled games. All school issued equipment that is lost or not returned in good condition at the end of the season will be subject to a financial penalty.

- Tryouts are open to all students- no fee can be charged
- Names of students selected for a team will be placed on a roster by the coach and given to the school office for the fees to be assessed.
- Participants must pay fees to the school office prior to the first game or they will not be allowed to participate.
- If a student moves mid-season or is injured and is no longer able to participate, a prorated refund will be issued based on length of the season they were able to participate in.
- If a student withdraws from a team or a disciplinary action results in a student being released from the team, there will be no refund.
- All athletic associated fees are subject to a fee waiver. A fee waiver will need to be applied for through the school and proper documentation will be required to establish eligibility.

CLINICS AND CAMPS:

Clinics (camps) are an essential part of our sports' programs. Students learn basic skills and improve their own skills through participation in these programs. Sports' clinics are open all age appropriate students that attend the school that is sponsoring the clinic. Clinic/camp experiences should be productive and educational in nature, planned with no school time missed and at minimal cost. All aspects of clinics/camps will be consistent with District policies and procedures including handling of money, safety of participants, payroll submittal and use of facilities. In order for these clinics to be held without rental fees and to be covered under WSD's insurance, the following guidelines should apply:

- Coaches need to meet with administrators before the clinic to get the clinic approved and to arrange the area needed at the school. The school administration has the final decision regarding all aspects of clinics/camps.
- Each participant must have a release form signed by the parent prior to the clinic/camp, including specific clinic/camp costs, rules and expectations.
- Clinics are held for only five days (or less) the week prior to tryouts and are held on weekdays. No uniforms or equipment will be distributed.
- All fees will be based on the current district fee schedule. All money collected from participants will be paid to the bookkeeper at the school. No coach will handle any money.
- All coaches and volunteers will need to be paid through WSD payroll and will need a background check prior to helping at the clinic
- Each sport will only offer one clinic per year.
- Schools may not suggest or require a student to attend a clinic or camp or a sport or activity during the school year or during the summer.

Some schools have been involved in organized preschool programs, such as weight training, conditioning and fundamentals. This has been organized as part of the recreation program. Pressures placed on students and faculty to feel they have to participate to keep up with others. Parents like their children free in the summer to participate in family activities. Equal opportunities for all schools are a major concern. Some schools have held special community school or recreation classes prior to the start of the regular season. A main concern is that this is not an extension of the regular season with coaches using it to prepare teams or to look at players for team selection. We are also concerned that students interested in making the school team do not feel pressure to have to participate. In many cases it interferes with home activities important to parents. Students should not be pressured to participate in a pre-season program as a prerequisite for making a school team.

9TH GRADE PARTICIPATION IN HIGH SCHOOL:

The junior high school program is designed and in place to give ample opportunities for development of skills and competition among students of the same age and comparable skill level. It is the Board of Education's purpose to have policies and procedures governing participation in junior high school and senior high school athletics that are equitable and protective of the best interests of all students. The Weber School District Board of Education believes that ninth grade students should participate in athletics at the junior high school level. However, there may be occasions where a ninth grader may desire to participate in a sport at the high school level. In such cases a ninth grader may try out for a high school team. The Board of Education strongly encourages high school coaches and junior high coaches to collaborate together, along with the parents of student athletes, in making this important decision in a young person's development.

- Ninth grade students may participate in any Utah High School Association. If the Student is not selected for the high school team, the student may still try out for the junior high school team. In the event a ninth grader is selected for the high school team, he/she may not participate on the junior high school level in that particular sport. Consistent with UHSAA rules, 9th grade students who have participated at the junior high level, are not eligible to participate at the high school level in the same activity in the same school year.
- A student who is enrolled in a junior high school but participates or tries out for any Association Activity at a high school shall be deemed to have attended that high school. If such a student shall enroll in a different high school for the tenth grade, that enrollment shall be considered a transfer and shall be subject to the requirements of the Association's Transfer Rule (Article 1 Section B, UHSAA)
- Ninth grade students participating in high school sports may not lose credit in more than one class in the Preceding grading period. Ninth grade students participating in high school sports must have obtained a minimum grade point average (G.P.A.) of 2.0 or its equivalent in the term prior to the Association activity and during that activity's full season even if a grading period ends. A student who has failed to meet these minimum academic requirements shall be ineligible for participation in Association activities throughout the next grading period.
- The ninth-grade student athlete's parent or guardian shall be responsible for providing transportation for the student to the high school for practices, home and away games.
- Senior high school coaches are prohibited from recruiting ninth grade students for any sport that is offered at the junior high level.
- Once a 9th grade student has been selected for participation on a high school team, it will be that student's (as well as his/her parent's or guardian's) responsibility to make sure that the 9th grade participation form is filled out and all necessary signatures obtained. The student will be ineligible for participation until the completed form is returned to the student's coach
- No athletic team representing a junior high school shall compete, in organized competition, against any higher institution. Our Jr Highs are permitted to compete against other 9th grade teams that are enrolled at a higher institution but only 9th grade students.

There is no cost for participating.

HEALTH/PHYSICAL:

Health and safety are top priorities for Weber School District. In order to ensure that student athletes are healthy and able to participate, they must provide proof of a health examination. A physical form must be completed by a certified health care provider and be on file at the school before any student may participate in any athletic activity.

- This physical form must be current and cover the entire season of play including post season. Physical forms are good for one year from the time they obtain them. LINK TO FORM
- A physical form may be valid over multiple sports seasons throughout the school year. Students will be required to submit a copy of the form for each sport that they are participating in.
- Student athletes must be covered by insurance during their athletic season. The school district does not carry insurance to cover student athletic injuries. Parents or guardians must provide evidence of adequate insurance or sign an insurance waiver releasing Weber School District of liability. LINK TO FORM

- The appeal will be evaluated and a decision rendered by an impartial board which will consist of the secondary assistant director and two other authorities in the field of athletics.

CONCUSSION MANAGEMENT GUIDELINES:

STEP 1: INJURY OCCURS

A concussion may occur in school, during athletics or outside of school grounds. It is essential that awareness be raised among school staff, athletics, students and parents/legal guardians on how to recognize/report a concussion and how to initiate concussion management protocol to ensure the student is appropriately supported. Once the school obtains information regarding the injury it is important that they follow up with the student, parent/legal guardian and/or the individual who witnessed the injury. It is beneficial to gather information on what happened, the medical diagnosis, and how the student is being impacted i.e., current symptoms. Information on the injury should then be communicated to all school team members that work with the student. The student should not be engaging in any physical activity where they may be reinjured such as: athletics, PE class, physical play at recess and also consider situations where they are at risk of being hit or knocked over as a bystander. It is beneficial to follow and support a student regardless of their current athletic status. Take a moment to consider the fact that all concussed students can be impacted academically and are at risk of an additional injury during recovery.

STEP 2: TEAM IS NOTIFIED

Team members will include an administrator, counselor, student's teacher(s), school nurse, coach, athletic trainer, and any other staff member deemed necessary. One team member will be identified as the point person, who has the ability to follow a student regardless of athletic status. This communication is important for many reasons.

- A student who sustained a concussion in athletics. The school also needs to be informed so they can provide the appropriate academic support and remove the student from physical activity.
- A student who sustains an injury outside of school. The school teams (teachers/nurse/counselor/coach/ATC) need to be notified so the student can be removed from physical activity and appropriate academic adjustments be provided while the student is recovering.
- A student who has sustained a concussion and is about to transition into an athletic activity. This could also be a student who is transitioning between sports and the coach/athletic trainer for the upcoming sport needs to be aware of the injury and where the student is in the recovery process.

STEP 3: COLLECT DATA

The school will want to ensure that information regarding how a student is recovering from the concussion is shared with the appropriate individuals (parent and/or health care provider with appropriate consent). Some examples of information that is relevant for the school to share include classroom adjustments needed to support the student, symptoms reported or observed (changes from typical behavior), neurocognitive data, etc.

STEP 4: PROVIDE DATA

The information collected regarding how the student is managing during the recovery process (symptoms experienced, changes from typical behavior, and adjustments needed within the school setting) should be reported to the parent/legal guardian. If the school has appropriate consent then this information can also be provided directly to the health care provider managing the student during this recovery process.

STEP 5: RETURN TO LEARN

As a student recovers from the concussion their symptoms should decrease and subsequently school professionals should be able to gradually decrease academic adjustments. This means they are engaged in school, completing assignments etc. with no academic adjustments and symptoms are not resurfacing. The Consensus Statement on Concussion in Sport: The 4th International Conference on Concussion in Sport held in Zurich indicates that the student-athlete should return to school successfully before they return to their sport or activity (McCrorry et al., 2013). Best practice would apply this to all students.

STEP 6: SYMPTOM-FREE

This occurs when all of the data collected during the recovery process (from parents, teachers, the student, neurocognitive testing, etc.) indicate that the student is no longer experiencing any symptoms, is no longer requiring academic adjustments/has returned to academic baseline, and is no longer needing medications to manage the concussion symptoms (refer to the Consensus Statement on Concussion in Sport: the 4th International Conference on Concussion in Sport held in Zurich, International Concussion Consensus Guidelines (http://bjsm.bmj.com/content/43/Suppl_1/i76.full.pdf))

STEP 7: RETURN TO PLAY

Best Practice would involve the student being symptom-free and the health care provider evaluating and providing approval to begin graduated RTP. Following successful completion of the graduated RTP Protocol the Health Care Provider can then provide final medical clearance.

Remember, a student should not RTP if they are still requiring adjustments in the school setting. This has been reiterated in the 4th Zurich Guidelines (McCrorry et al., 2013). For this reason, along with the fact that a student may develop a symptom while increasing physical activity it is important that the school-academic team and the school-physical team stay in communication with each other regarding the student's recovery.

CHEERLEADERS, STUDENT GOVERNMENT, and MASCOTS:

Student leadership such as cheerleaders, mascots, student government and pep clubs are considered an integral part of the athletic program. Their purpose, in this setting, is to maintain enthusiasm and school spirit, get students and spectators involved, encourage and promote events with positive attitudes and good sportsmanship. Cheerleaders, spectators, officers and students will refrain from shouting or using cheers that are derogatory and antagonistic in nature. Cheers should be positive and encourage their own team. They should not be aimed at tearing down others.

Cheerleaders and all other student leadership should:

- Use only appropriate cheers and chants and should use them at appropriate times in the games.
- Promote good sportsmanship
- Concentrate on the game and know what is happening
- Never yell or chant over the other teams' cheers
- Use a variety of cheers, songs and chants to keep the spectators interested and involved

- Support the team and those involved in the national anthem and halftime shows
- Show kindness and respect to the other team, cheerleaders, coaches, and students from the opposing team
- Travel with the team to the away games. They must wear their identifying uniforms, jackets or shirts for their school programs.
- Must go directly to the field or gym and remain there until the event begins. They are not to wander through the school, create a mess or a distraction or disrupt the warm ups of the athletes.

PROCEDURE OF PROTEST:

- A game protest (direct result of a game, meet, etc.) which occurs before, during or after a game must be filed at the time of occurrence with officials, scorekeepers, and opposing coaches verbally. This should be followed up by a statement in writing to the Secondary assistant director within 24 hours.
- Protests involving sportsmanship, lack of crowd control, inappropriate actions of players, spectators and/or coaches may be submitted directly to the Secondary assistant director who will then present it to the Board of Managers.
- A policy and regulation protest may be reported at any time and must be placed in writing and presented to the Secondary assistant director before the conclusion of that particular sport season.
- The protest may be evaluated and a recommendation rendered by an arbitrary board which will consist of the Secondary assistant director and two authorities in the field of athletics.
- Penalties may be assessed by the Board of Managers

WITHDRAWAL OF A TEAM:

In assessing penalties, the Board of Managers may consider but will not be restricted to any of the following: (not in any particular order)

- Reprimand: An official letter to the individual and/or school, in regard to the offense committed, warning against acts of a detrimental nature which are contrary to the aims and philosophies of the Board of Managers. This letter could become a part of the permanent file of the individual and/or school involved and subject to review after two years.
- Probation: An official letter to the individual and/or school, in regard to the offense committed, clearly stating what conduct, activity or behavior needs correcting. Offending individuals and/or schools would be advised that their continued participation in junior high athletics would be on a probationary status for a period of one year. In addition, the offending individual and/or school would be warned that any failure to correct these specified problems may result in more severe action by the Board of Managers but not limited to: restriction, suspension, fines or any combination thereof.

- Restriction: Action which would restrict participation in district, group or state level activities. The restriction may be applied to an individual, to a team, group or school.
- Suspension: The action of a suspension is to drop the school from membership and prohibit participation in any or all sponsored activities. The length of suspension shall be determined by the Board of Managers
- Fines: A coach, principal and/or school may be assessed a fine, not to exceed $100. The fine will be collected by the Secondary assistant director and deposited into the district junior high athletic account.

REVIEW AND RIGHT TO A HEARING

- Any individual or school accused of violating any of the rules or policies of the Board of Managers, will be entitled to a hearing with the appropriate governing body before any penalty or sanction is assessed.
- All penalties assessed by the Board of Managers shall be subject to appeal and review by the assistant superintendent and designated appointees.

PLAYOFFS/TIE BREAKING RULES:

The teams with the same record at the end of the regular season will be placed according to the following:

- In case of a two-way tie, the placement into the tournament will be determined by reverting to head to head play of the regular season. The winner of the head to head will be seeded higher.
- If there are three teams tied for one playoff spot, there will be a mini-playoff (see sport specifics below) A coin flip will decide who sits out. The other two teams will play the mini-game with the loser out. The winner then plays a second mini-game with the team that sat out. The winner of this second game advances into the championship tournament. These games will be played at a neutral site.

- If there are three teams tied for two playoff spots, there will be a mini-playoff (see sport specifics below) A coin flip will determine who sits out. The other two teams will play the first mini-game. The loser of the first mini game will then play the team that sat out in a second mini-game. The winners of both mini games will be seeded in the tournament based on their season head to head. These games will be played at a neutral site (high school if available).
- If there are four teams tied for two playoff spots, a coin flip will determine who plays one another in a playoff. This playoff will be held at two different neutral sites. These playoff games will consist of a full game. The two winners will advance to the championship tournament.
- If there are four teams tied for one playoff spot, there will be a single elimination tournament. These playoff games will be mini-games (see sport specifics below) The format will be determined by the Board of Managers.
- If there are three teams tied for three seeded positions, a coin flip will be used to determine the seed. The odd coin will have their choice of any of the three seed positions. The losing teams will then flip again. The winning team will have their choice of the two remaining seeds.
- If there are four teams tied for four seeded positions, a coin flip will be used. Teams will draw numbers. Teams 1 and 2 and teams 3 and 4 will flip coins. Winners will flip again for first and second. Losers will flip again for third and fourth place. The winning team will have their choice of the two remaining seeds.
- If there are five teams tied for one playoff spot, a representative from each school will draw one letter. The letter will be A through E. The team that draws the letter E will go into the tournament as the 4th place seed. The teams that draw letters A and B will play each other in a mini-game and the teams that draw letters C and D will play each other in a mini-game. (See sport specifics below) The winner of the game between A and B will be involved in a coin toss with the winner of the game between C and D to determine 1st and 2nd seeds for the final tournament. The losers of the games between A and B and C and D will play each other in a mini-game. The winner of this game will advance to the tournament as the 3rd seed.
